Registration Is Greatest Since End Of War

Clerk Says 900 Sign up During Three-Week Rush

AS THE deadline for registration drew to a close Tuesday County Clerk Mark Clayton reported that more than 900 voters have registered since the last election — most of them during the past two weeks—marking the biggest interest in the polls since before the war.

He estimated that somewhere between 6,000 and 7,000 residents of the county are registered altogether. A vote of 4,000 ballots in the county is considered a heavy year at the polls, according to long-time observers.

THE RUSH to register was prompted by the candidates, for the most part, who have stood almost unanimously in urging residents to take a more active interest in local politics. Several candidates or their aides were operating cars late last week and early this week in getting the eligible voters signed up.

A series of community meetings, featuring moving pictures both for entertainment and education, will be held next week at three Marshall County communities, according to J. Homer Miller, county agent.

The first will be held Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock at Oak Level; Thursday at Walnut Grove; and Friday at Church Grove.

Post Treating Demonstration Set Next Friday

$10,000 Worth Of Equipment Due on June 17

IT MIGHT have been called "Fight Fungus Day," but County Forester Bob Rider announced it more simply as a Post Treating Demonstration next Friday, June 17, when $10,000 worth of equipment will be brought to Benton to show Marshall County farmers how they can save hundreds of dollars and many man-hours of work by adequate preparation of fence posts.

The demonstration, which will be held on the lot adjacent to the Marshall County Soil Improvement Association building on East 12th Street, will last from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

OUR OLD enemy, fungus, destroys thousands of dollars worth of fence posts and lumber each year by causing rot, Mr. Rider explained. "If a farmer has all the black locust, osage orange, mulberry or cypress (hardwoods) that he wants—and if he can afford to use such fine, durable wood for fence posts, then he probably doesn't have to worry about wood rot and termites. But many woodland lots are getting thin and farmers

Homecoming Listed At Old Birmingham

County Park Dedication Is Feature For 4th Annual Event on July 3

THE BIRMINGHAM Homecoming Association is hard at work mapping plans for the fourth annual Birmingham Homecoming, celebration Sunday, July 3, at the George Holland home place on Kentucky Lake.

The largest crowd in history of the association, which was formed to maintain a link between the residents of old Birmingham, one of West Kentucky's most colorful communities, which was wiped off the map by Kentucky Lake.

ONE OF the features of the program will be the dedication of the county park leased to the county by the TVA at the request of the association. The park will be the scene of annual homecomings, according to Harold Holland, secretary of the group.

The program will begin at 10 a. m., and complete details will be announced later. While the main attraction will be the renewing of friendships between old Birmingham residents, the event is open to the public. "Everybody is invited to come and bring a basket lunch," Mr. Holland. "Let's make it a reunion day for all Marshall Countians."

VISITORS

L. Julian Long of Ashville, N. C., and his daughters, Lynn and Gretchen, were guests of Mrs. Belle Kinsolving last week. —Also Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Gray of Louisville.

are forced to rely on posts that must be replaced every four or five years. And all farmers who do this certainly want to see the post and timber treating demonstration."

THE POSTS to be treated, Mr. Rider said, were planted in this county approximately 12 years ago by CCC labor. They are coming off the farms of New Tynes, R. A. Foust Sr., and Dan Gold.

In addition to the portable treating vat, a gasoline driven post peeling machine will be demonstrated. The preservative to be used at the Marshall County demonstration is copper naphthenate, a chemical which can be used with diesel oil or refuse motor oil. The posts will be soaked in the solution for a few hours, depending on the size and moisture content of the posts being treated.

It is pointed out that the chemical compound used in the solution will readily soak into the sapwood preventing rot, fungi mold, and insect destruction. The chemical does not harm the outside of the posts as do some other preservatives. It is estimated that the post treating will prolong the life of an ordinary post for at least fifteen years. With the rapid destruction of chestnut to work.

Mr. A. A. (Arch) Nelson suffered a heart attack Monday in Nelson's Drug store and is now at home for a few days resting on orders of the doctor, who said it probably was caused by overwork.

This followed closely an operation undergone by Pont Nelson in a Paducah hospital. Pont has returned home and is reported in good condition — but is not yet able to return to work.

Rev. T. G. Waller Being Buried Today

Baptist Pastor Dies Tuesday After Collision

Hundreds Attend Funeral Service Here Thursday

WAS ACTIVE LEADER IN CIVIC WORK

THE REV. T. G. Waller, 36-year-old pastor of the First Missionary Baptist Church, who died Tuesday morning in the Murray Hospital as a result of injuries suffered in a car-truck collision near Dexter Monday, is being buried this afternoon in the Waller Family Cemetery in Valley Station, Kentucky.

Hundreds were on hand here yesterday afternoon for the funeral service in Mr. Waller's church, conducted by the Rev. Thomas R. Brown and the Rev. W. H. Bone. Ministers were pallbearers.

THE ACCIDENT occurred when Mr. Waller's automobile, headed toward Murray, and a trailer truck driven by Mason Canada, 28, of New Concord, headed toward Benton, sideswiped viciously, ripping away the driver's side of the pastor's automobile.

Mr. Waller had been pastor of the Benton church approximately a year and a half. He was an active member of the Lion's Club and one of the most avid boosters of Big Singing Day.

This year he wrote and mimeographed personally 5,000 copies of a 16-page history of Big Singing.

SURVIVORS include his wife and three sons, Tommy, George and Richard; his mother, Mrs. Z. S. Waller of Louisville; four sisters, Mrs. James Renney of Riverside, Calif.; Mrs. Laverne Breatherneck of Blythe, Calif.; Mrs. Arthur Kuhn of Louisville and Mrs. William Smith of Fort Worth, Texas; four brothers, John J. Waller of Jackson, Miss.; Z. S. Waller Jr., of Louisville; and William W. Waller of Charleston, W. V.

LAKE POPULAR FOR MEETINGS

Business and Pleasure Can Really be Mixed

MORE AND MORE business groups are finding ways to combine business and pleasure these days — and Kentucky Lake helps them along.

For example, the Kentucky Press Association will bring journalists from all over the state to Kentucky Dam State Park next Friday, Saturday and Sunday for the summer convention.

AND THE KPA circulars promise that no heavy business will be transacted, although the journalists can expect to iron out at least a few kinks in the association program.

The principal attraction in all likelihood will be the dam and the lake — with boating, fishing and swimming coming in for much consideration.

HAROLD FISCHER, superintendent of the state park, said that the lodges at the dam were 100 per cent reserved more than a month ago—and that hundreds of applications for rooms had to be turned down or channeled elsewhere.

Few are the weeks that Kentucky Dam goes without being the scene of some major convention. The tax commissioners held a state session there last month.

THE KENTUCKY Chamber of commerce board of directors will meet at the dam June 29, and the board of directors of the Kentucky State Fair will meet there the following day.

A dinner meeting at 7:30 o'clock which will feature Governor Earle Clements.

MASTER MASONIC WORK

T. L. Jefferson-Benton Lodge 622, Free and Accepted Masons, will conduct work in the Master's degree Monday night, June 13, at a stated communication in the Benton Masonic Hall, according to K. A. Nichols, master, and L. R. O. Daniel, secretary.

BARBARA POLK STUDENTS LIST MUSIC RECITAL

Miss Barbara Polk, music instructor at the Benton High School, scheduled a presentation of her music students Thursday, June 9, at 7:30 o'clock in the Benton Methodist Church.

Vocal and piano selections are on the program. The event is open to the public.

Students participating: John Roberts, Linda Henson, Carolyn Hicks, Barbara Solomon, Lawell Roberts, Beverly Riley, Wendell Roberts, Mary Lou Fields, Mary Rose Cochran, Norma Ruth Roberts, Lady Martin Hicks, all of Benton, and Phyllis K. Alexander and Ann Overton of Paducah.

BABY GIRL!

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Linn of Benton are the parents of an 8-pound, 13-ounce girl born Tuesday night in the Murray Hospital.

THE OAK LEVEL school will sponsor a candidate speaking and an all-day picnic Saturday, July 9, it was announced today. The speaking will start at 10:30 a. m. Refreshments will be sold for the benefit of the school.

Council Tells Police Force to Hit Violators

Guy English Gets Post on Staff For Night Work

A CRACKDOWN by the Benton Police Department on speeders is in store for the careless motorist as a result of action of the City Council on Monday night.

Mayor Hatler E. Morgan and the councilmen instructed Chief of Police Neal Owen to "enforce strictly" the 20-mile an hour speed limit in Benton, which members of the group said is being violated repeatedly.

IN KEEPING with his orders from the city, Mr. Owen warned today that motorists who exceeded the limit will be arrested. The fines run $7 and costs. Mr. Owen said that the names of offenders will be furnished to local newspapers together with a request that they be printed.

The council's step to enforce the existing regulations was prompted, it was said, because there are "too many wrecks, too many wreckless drivers, and too much danger to pedestrians — particularly children and old folks."

MR. OWEN and Mayor Morgan both stated emphatically that the action is not leveled at any one group and is not designed to fleece tourists who happen to be passing through.

"A great many of our own folks are among the worst offenders," the police chief said, "and they can expect action as quickly as anyone else. It is for the protection of them and their families that safety is being stressed anyway — and Benton folks should cooperate. If they violate the law, however, they face arrest."

THE COUNCIL approved the appointment of Guy English of Benton, manager of the English Coal and Ice Company, as the night policeman.

Local Residents Buy Controlling Interest In Drive-In Theatre

Shelby McCallum of Benton and George Edwards of Route 5, have purchased the controlling interest in the B. and W. Drive-In Theatre just side of Hopkinsville on U. S. 68.

The theatre will be operated this summer with the present equipment, but the new owners said large-scale improvements are planned—and that the remodeling will begin at once.

The value of the theatre, only one of its kind in the Hopkinsville area, has been set at between $40,000 and $50,000.

SPEAKING SERIES MAY BE PLANNED

Candidates To Decide June 24

JUNE 24 will be the deciding date on a series of public speaking recently urged by Tribune-Democrat. The candidates will meet on that date to discuss plans for the final stages of the campaign—and to determine if a majority of them desire to have speaking.

Several candidates have indicated that they favor the proposal; none have openly opposed it, but a majority have been more or less lethargic, saying they "don't care one way or another."

MANY DEFINITELY will be on hand, however, for the all-day speaking and picnic to be sponsored by Oakland Church July 14, and it is expected that the date will be incorporated as a scheduled speaking in any plans that may arise from the June 24 meeting.

Many Cars--Little Space

IT'S A HARSH thing to say about ourselves—but we've become a bottleneck—a traffic bottleneck, that is. Had you noticed that it is well nigh impossible to drive around the square on Saturday in less than five minutes—or without stopping at least a half dozen times—or that it frequently takes five minutes to get out of a parking place and in the flow of traffic?

THE SOLUTION? We don't claim to know for sure, but it seems that SOMETHING could—and should—be done to open up the streets a little.

Benton merchants recently put up signs pointing the way to the merrier. But we should give our traffic problems some thought before it gets so bad people will actually route themselves AWAY from Benton to avoid the jams.

WE'RE NOT inferring that it's as bad as Times Square, but it is far too crowded for convenient traffic. The streets are so narrow that meeting situations call for a tight squeeze. This is particularly true around the square where "end-in" parking prevails—and is equally true on Main Street and 12th Street—the main arteries—where parallel parking prevails.

Off-hand we'd say that parallel parking around the square would help. A disadvantage, of course, would be the loss of a great number of parking spaces. However, the parking areas could be extended another block from town and folks still would not have to walk as far as they do in neighboring cities to hit the main drag.

ANOTHER consideration is cutting down the court square by a few feet, making the streets wider. This isn't a new idea by any means. The story for a long time was that the fiscal court frowned upon it. Recently, however, indications have been that the magistrates see the need for something to be done and view the matter in a different light. If this be true, it wouldn't seem out of place for the City Council, or whoever has jurisdiction, to take up the matter again—if they think it would be the correct solution.

Parking meters were suggested a year ago—but the idea was abandoned. We'd like to study the matter more before committing ourselves—but 90 per cent of the towns that have tried them have been glad they did. There are examples on the other side, too.

WHATEVER the solution, something should be tried to ease the traffic-parking pain.

It wouldn't cost anything except a little paint to try parallel parking on at least one side of the main square streets. It would add about four feet to the usable street width.

If it doesn't work—nothing will have been lost and we'll be that much the wiser. How does the idea strike you?

BERRY SEASON IN REVIEW:

Final Estimate Up to $180,000

REVIEWING the "loose ends" of the 1949 strawberry season, which ended here last week, J. B. Barker, supervisor of local shipments, raised his estimate on the value of berries going through the local depot to $155,530, and set a rough figure of $180,000 for all berries raised by Marshall County growers.

His figures, based on average prices for the shipping periods in question, are as follow:

First 14 Cars, with 3,880 at $6.25	$24,250
Last 27 Cars, with 15,540 crates at $7	108,780
Cap Berries	10,000
TOTAL	$155,530

(An additional seventh, or approximately $22,000 should be added, he said, for Marshall County berries shipped at Paducah.)

Prices at the close of the season were "extremely good," Mr. Barker said. "The best of the season, in fact." He said that the manner in which Barge and Gohlighly handled berries this year accounted for the $10,000 income to county farmers from cap berries, which might otherwise have been lost altogether.

The marketing firm had buyers for all grades of berries a tall time during the season.

Around The Square

CONGRATULATIONS: To J. Matt Sparkman, whom we still like to consider a Bentonian, on his selection as the first "dean of students" at Murray State College.

EVOLUTION: Time alters the face of many things. Farms, towns, countries—and oh yes, people. The old gray barn on the Tom Harrison farm near Brezel School three miles west of Benton is giving way to a new, modern brick home. Folks who remember how the place looked years ago wouldn't recognize it now.

CIRCULATION: Not newspapers this time—but money. Elton Telle of the Style-Mart Store insists the only way to keep prosperity is to keep the money moving around—whatever it takes to do it being sound economics. He reasons, and logically so, that the more folks make the more they spend, and the more they spend the more other folks make.

SMITH DUNN'S eye patch wasn't inflicted by Wife Ruth—but came by way of a wayward baseball. Wouldn't have thought about it as fodder for "Around the Square"—except that Smith's brother, Frank Dunn, told him he'd better be quiet about it or "it'd wind up in the newspaper." (Here it is Frank—you talked too much.)

FACE SAVING: Dad was telling me about an incident concerning two of my little cousins for the "cute comment" department. Little Johnnie Chambers and sister Carolyn of Texas—children of John Chambers and grandchildren of the late B. F. (Frank) Chambers of Benton and Beaumont, Texas.

It seems that Johnnie had slapped Sister Carolyn in one of their play spats and his father was coaxing him to apologize. The room was full of adults, who gazed expectantly at Johnnie. "I'll be glad to do it, dad," he whispered. "—But please don't make me apologize in front of all these people. Can't we do it in the back room and keep it a secret?"

EVA AND GRADY Ridings caught the first "limit" string on strippers this season. Happened a few weeks ago—and we're tardy in getting around to it. Fifteen nice 'uns apiece, the caught—averaging almost two pounds per fish.

LADINO CLOVER and Kentucky "31" fescue have been included on at least 60 per cent of the permanent pastures seeded in Marshall County, according to a release this week by the Kentucky Agriculture Experiment Station, upon regular reports filed by the county agent.

FLIGHT INTO TOMORROW

Forests are different from other natural resources. They grow, and because they grow, forests will replace themselves. Symbol of their growth is the seed, different on each tree, yet the same in life-beginning power.

A seed dropped by a forest tree begins a long and important journey into our future. Nurtured by the forest soil, it sprouts as a seedling tree. Given room to grow—if not crowded by mature trees ripe for use—it will grow rapidly. Protected from fire and other destructive agencies, it has a commercial value in 15 to 30 years. Permitted to reach an age of 50 to 75 years, it may become a high-quality commercial tree. But the journey is not over when it has been cut to make room for the seedlings to which it has given life. As wood—essential raw material of more than 4,000 important uses—it begins the work for which its growth prepared it.

The forest industries of America, which know the productive powers of our woodlands, encourage the growing of trees as a crop. They advocate proper management of our woodlands. By such means, the third of America which consists of forest lands may continue to grow tree crops forever.

It Pays to Grow More Trees

Your trees..
LIKE MONEY in the BANK

Ask the man who grows trees. He will be quick to tell you a green and growing woodland is like money in the bank. Today a well-managed forest—small or large—is a gilt-edge investment that earns compound interest for its owner.

Preserving fence posts and lumber is also a good investment.

Benton 12-Calvert 2

Despite the one-run lead Calvert City got in the first inning, it was Benton all the way here Sunday afternoon as the Lions slugged out a 12-2 victory in the first meeting of the Marshall County teams this year.

WILLIE Jones pitched a masterful game, retiring for a pinch hitter in the fifth inning, with a big lead. Taylor took over and continued Benton's mound mastery in the final frames. Country Thompson and Taylor hit triples for Benton, which has lost only one game this year.

Sunday games: Benton goes to Smithland while Calvert City entertains Burns.

NOTICE NOTICE

In accordance with instructions from the Benton City Council, the speed limit of 20-miles per hour will henceforth be enforced rigidly. Offenders face fines of $7 and cost.

Attic--A Store House of Dreams

By Mary Green
To Pauline
(Mrs. Galen Hiett)

Why am I sitting here writing, when work's all piled up to do?
There's thrushes astir in the hedges...a painful o' sun on my shoe.
I'm writing because I'm reminded that maybe this moment won't come again. The clear sky might become clouded and all this beauty be faded by rain! Evenings are longer now—just right to putter around in the yard...although not warm enough yet to sit under the trees.

On Eventide

I love the early evenings...from then until dark dusk. I might as well; I dare not go in until New Boss and Baby Marilyn catch their quota of lightning bugs or fire flies.
Miss Polly plays jack stones on the cistern top...Sir Eddie with his pocket knife and an old alarm clock, tells me he's beginning his motor boat.
Dutiful Tom...Masterful Doug are on the courtin' list...seems so funny when only yesterday you and I were doing the same thing!

No Tow-Heads Now!

A reader asked me what has become of the tow heads. They have become...well...men! Tall and strong, brown and freckled like trees. They can sling me across their broad shoulders and parade me all across the lawn...not that my weight is down one ounce...it's that they just aren't tow heads + heads any more—only in my heart.
A big old yellow jay moon beams at me from over the garden...the man who burned the brush on Sunday gazes from it. I wonder if that old legend could be true. Anyway, that's what I tell my children...and my mother told it to me.

Maybe you'd like to know I spent the day at the old home-land last Friday...down among the sights and sounds that are so much a part of me.

The Tree Is Gone

The once-beloved "Trouble Tree" has fallen...not by the blade of the axe...just old, old and worn out. I stood by the heart of it and thought of the childhood secrets it had held for a wayward child...even when she was a sweethearts.
And on to the older years...the tree shared them all. Once I ran away from home, stayed hid in a nearby thicket...most of the day, then sneaked back and they didn't know I'd been gone until I said, "You've still got the same old stove!"

Attic Reminiscence

I love to slip to the attic...alone there I can simply be a child again. Only it takes more than a child's heart to lift the lid from an old trunk that holds a wardrobe of little print dresses, aprons, linen handkerchiefs and a little blue bonnet! It takes courage and lots of it to look at the stitches...long and even...in the apron hems...and it would take barrels to hold the tears as I remember to kiss each garment and gently let the lid down!

Afraid of the Barn

Where the old gray barn once stood the Harrisons and Johnson are erecting a new, modern up-to-date brick home. I can't say I'm sorry the old barn is gone. Even in my earliest childhood I was afraid of "it."

It always stood up tall and seemed enshrouded by dark dusk like a giant. And within its walls was about the only place the new kittens were safe—or the sleepy doll I was to get for Christmas.

And I was forever praying it would just walk off some night when bad clouds would come up. Mother was a great hand to pray. Dad would sleep through the very toughest ones peaceful as a baby. I didn't know which was right...seemed both were.

Once I kept murmuring by dad. He wanted to know what I was saying. I told him, "Praying." (I was 5.)
He said, "Always be careful what you pray for, Baby. Be firm and honest—and you'll be apt to get it."

Delayed Action

I prayed then for the old barn to fall. That prayer was 35 years being answered. The barn's gone...and I'm proud of its landmark...to think the very spot where ye scribe once played with the five yellow kittens...fear in her heart...will now take a bath in a yellow tub and push button for water!

Bonnie blue skies for our baby, Marilyn, who recently observed her fourth birthday. Nothing surpasses the visit from the entire M. L. Hodge family of Oak Ridge, who were our dinner guests last Sunday. "Always do right: It will astonish some people and gratify the rest." (It was Mark Twain who said it.)
Leave it to me to overlook birthdays of such swell folks as Mrs. Alva Green, Mrs. Geo. Edwards and Fred Hunt.

Sorry to hear Artelle Halton, one of heroic sons of World War II, isn't feeling up to par these days.
Nothing can lift my morale like an hour's chat with Dear Belle (Kinsolving).
I just wonder if Mrs. Clifton Wyatt of near Paducah is listed as one of my readers.
My sympathy, deep and sincere, to the Brewer family over Bob's untimely death.

I'm at my line's end...with no room left to tell about the lovely Stanley Party at Kentucky Lake last Saturday...about the lovely graduates on commencement evening recently...and my trip to town...my chat with you, Pauline, in the dime store. (Remember our chat?) It was wonderful. So is our friendship, Dear Pauline!

Alright Gene, here I am with the news — to save my neck, ho, ho!

Still thinking about all the folks I saw in Benton at Big Singin...and still remembering the old fashioned songs of long ago.

Sick List

Ray Jones, who has been confined to his room for some time, remains unimproved.

Aunt Sara Lee isn't feeling as well at present. And Uncle Minus Lee is about as usual. These old folks have been shut ins for a long time.

Elton Nanney has been under a doctor's care for several days due to a nervous condition.

Wayne Lee hasn't been feeling well lately with head and ear trouble.

The farmers have been very busy trying to get their crops out—but most of them have the corn planted, tobacco set—and of course the berry picking is over except for picking over the fields for home use.

(Holdover Personals)

Those visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lee Friday night were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mardis, Mr. and Mrs. John Booker and children, Mrs. Fannie Lee and Wayne.

Willadean Lee was a Friday night guest in the home of her aunt, Mrs. Jim Clayton and son, of Hico.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Lee were Sunday afternoon visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Jeffrey and son, Allen.

Just passed Mr. and Mrs. Tilmann Jeffrey and Nancy all prettied up and going some place.

And there goes Charles Lovett all dolled up. (Look out, girls!)

Saw Billy Mardis and some girl pass the place I was visiting Friday. Just wonder, Billy, if dad knew.

E. W. and Billy Joe Thorn spent Saturday night with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Lee.

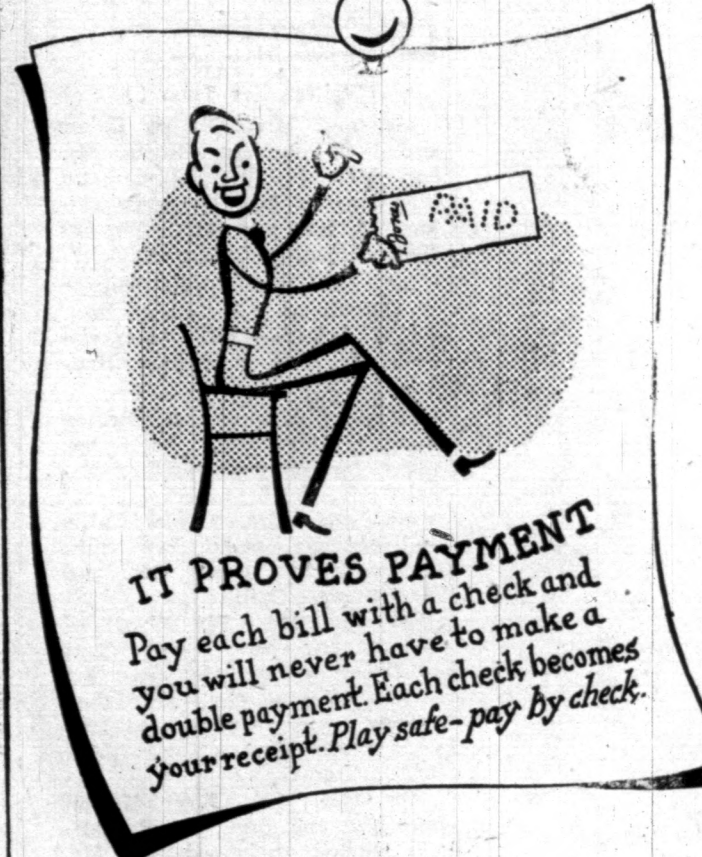

Wayne Lee was in Hardin Saturday morning and came in for lunch, prettied up, and went back north. Just wonder which end of the highway he took.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Nelson are moving to the Wyman Jones place on Benton Route 5.

No Iron Curtain

"We read a lot these days about an Iron Curtain maintained by a certain nation. In contrast, Woodcraft's motives are crystal clear, completely unselfish... there is no Iron Curtain here.

"All may see the relief in a widow's eyes... when the Society's check is handed to her. All may observe how fraternity is made practical when a Camp harvests an ill member's crop... presents a flag to a school... a medal to a student of history. Nor is there any secret when they establish a blood bank, present a wheel chair, or unveil an historical marker." —From an editorial by President Farrah Newberry in Woodmen of the World Magazine.

These are but some of the "plus" benefits Woodmen enjoy along with safe, sound, legal reserve life insurance protection. Ask the local Woodmen representative how you can build security for yourself and your loved ones and enjoy Woodcraft's fraternal, social and civic activities.

Pleasant Hill:

By William Peek

Here I am again with a bit more news from the hills after being out for a few weeks. But I promise not to stay away so long again. Saw Bill Nelson a few days ago and he was asking about the "Hill" news. We all have to discontinue sometimes when things interfere—but here it is now, Bill. This scribe attended the young people's fifth Sunday rally at Bethel Cumberland Presbyterian Church near Kevil. Mrs. Effie Bowden, circulation manager and roving reporter of the Tribune, was through the Hill community a few days ago and came away with more subscribers to the paper.

M. G. Stice of Calvert was in this section Wednesday. Miss Wanda Ann Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Smith, and Clint Coursey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Coursey, were married Saturday. Thought for closing: Read St. John, 14th chapter, on "the way, the truth and the life."

Briensburg:

By Margaret Chandler

After letting the readers of the Tribune rest for a few weeks here I come with a little more news from the (Burg). Right now the two main interests seem to be fishing and the election. There are quite a few people vacationing at the lake.

The candidates have been pretty thick in the community for the past several days. I've been told that some running for the same office, would just about meet at the same place, anyway. Here's hoping all of them have good luck. I, for one, hope they decide to have some public speaking.

Mrs. Wes Locker is ill at this writing, she told me several weeks ago that she enjoyed these columns. Here's hoping that she will soon be feeling good again. Curtis Lee Grace left last week for Abilene, Texas to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. James Culp. Miss Nonnie Wyatt spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Wyatt of Reidland.
